

LEARN - DESIGN - BUILD

Architecture 401 VAN is a study in design and fabrication using both digital and analog fabrication methods. This course teaches students how to use 3D printers, laser cutters, digital fabrication machines, metal working tools, and a full selection of woodworking tools. Students in this course will design and build various small projects and a full piece of personal furniture.

ARCHITECTURE 401 VAN

Variables & Nuances Seminar